

Join us for a free evening seminar

Sexual Harassment in the Workplace: Damages

Tuesday 10 October 2017

5pm to 6.30pm

William Cooper Justice Centre,
Court 6, 223 William Street, Melbourne

This seminar explores the difference between damages awarded in common law cases and damages awarded under equal opportunity legislation such as the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (Vic), particularly in light of the decision of Justice Terry Forrest in Mathews v Winslow Constructors (Vic) Pty Ltd [2015] VSC 728. Practitioners will hear from Professor Beth Gaze from Melbourne Law School, as well as barristers Jenny Firkin and Sarala Fitzgerald.

Who Should Attend?

The seminar is aimed at those practising in employment and discrimination law, and will also be of interest to those practising in workplace injury. Participation in this seminar may entitle practitioners to claim up to 1 CPD point.

RSVP no later than 5 October 2017

Places are limited, early registration is encouraged

Click here to RSVP your attendance

Attendees are required to pass through security screening to access court 6.
Please allow sufficient time and consider attending without any items that security will require to be surrendered.